

Michael Brooks

Senior Vice President and Chief Information Officer, Exelon Corporation

Profile

Michael Brooks is the Chief Information Officer for Exelon Corporation, one of the nation's largest utility companies. Brooks leads the IT organization at Exelon as it continues to enable the energy transformation by providing best-in-class solutions for employees, customers and business partners. Brooks is a member of Exelon's Executive Committee.

Professional History

Brooks is an IT and operations leader with more than 30 years of experience. Before joining Exelon in May 2024, Brooks worked at LKQ Corporation, a Chicago based distributor of parts, components and systems used in vehicle repair and maintenance, where he served as the Senior Vice President and Global Chief Information Officer. Prior to LKQ, Brooks spent over a decade with GATX Corporation, a global railcar leasing company, where he held various senior management positions, including Chief Information Officer and Chief Operating Officer. From 2003 to 2008, Brooks served as Chief Information Officer for Constellation NewEnergy. Earlier in his career, he also spent more than ten years in consulting, focusing on process improvement and systems implementations with firms such as Accenture and Oracle.

Education

Brooks holds an MBA degree from American University and an undergraduate degree in Economics from the University of Georgia.
